

Green Infrastructure/Sustainable Design Consultants and Building Contractors

The following list of consultants have indicated to the City of Jeffersonville that they are experienced in the design and/or construction of green infrastructure and/or sustainable design, such as green roofs, bioswales, rain gardens, bioretention, etc. The type of their services and experiences may vary and it is up to the developer to determine the best designer and builder for each project. This is not an endorsement of any company over another but a service provided to developers.
